Wallis Institute Conference
October 22-23, 2004
Colgate Rochester Crozer Divinity School

Friday, October 22

Lunch 11:45 p.m.

1:15 p.m. Speaker: Wolfgang Pesendorfer, Princeton University, "Partisan Politics and Aggregation Failure with Ignorant Voters," (Co-Author, Faruk Gul).

Discussant: Mark Fey, University of Rochester.

2:30 p.m. Speaker: Massimo Morelli, Ohio State University, "Behavioral Identification in Coalitional Bargaining An Experimental Analysis of Demand Bargaining and Alternating Offers," (Co-Authors, Guillaume Frechette, and John Kagel).

Discussant: Michael Ting, Columbia.

3:45 p.m. Break

4:14 p.m. Speaker: Matt Jackson, California Institute of Technology, "Vote Buying," (Co-Authors, Eddie Dekel and Asher Wolinsky).

Discussant: Mattias Polborn, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

6:00 p.m. Shuttle to Crown Plaza

Saturday, October 23

8:30 a.m. Breakfast

9:00 a.m. Speaker: Ronny Razin, New York University, "Multidimensional Cheap Talk," (Co-Author, Gilat Levy).

Discussant: Marco Battaglini, MIT.

10:15 a.m. Break

10:45 a.m. Speaker: John Patty, Carnegie Mellon University, "The Behavioral Foundations of the Midterm Effect."

Discussant: Jonathan Katz, California Institute of Technology.

12:00 noon Lunch
1:15 p.m. Speaker: David Baron, Stanford University, "Persistent Media Bias."
Discussant: David Stromberg, IIES.

2:30 p.m. Speaker: David Epstein, Columbia University, "Racial Gerrymandering and Representative Democracy," (Co-Author, Sharyn O'Halloran).
Discussant: Ken Shotts, Stanford.

3:45 Break

4:15 Speaker: John Roemer (Yale University), "Racism and Redistribution in the United States A Solution to the Problem of American Exceptionalism," (Co-Author, Woojin Lee).

6:00 p.m. Shuttle to Crown Plaza